AUR 72ND Annual Meeting

The Learning Healthcare System

The Association of University Radiologists (AUR) is the only North American organization focused on academic radiology and consists of over 1,700 academic radiologists, residents, and fellows. The purpose of the Association of University Radiologists is to encourage excellence in radiological laboratory and clinical investigation, teaching and clinical practice; to stimulate an interest in academic radiology as a medical career; to advance radiology as a medical science; and to represent academic radiology at a national level.

The AUR Annual Meeting:

- Is the perfect venue to share ideas and explore new opportunities for collaboration with colleagues.
- Offers a variety of targeted and blended learning and engagement activities.
- Is attended by over 1,200 members of the academic community consisting of Department Chairs, Program Directors, Residents and active academic researchers and educators.
- Offers a forum for high level Industry Representatives and Academic Radiologists to meet and discuss current topics that are of interest to both groups.
