

Dear Colleague:

I am delighted to invite your department to participate in the AUR Academic Faculty Development Program. The goal of the AUR Academic Faculty Development Program is to bring together promising junior radiology physician faculty members who are within the first five years of appointment in their academic careers for a one-day program of education and networking.

The Program will be held at the 66th Annual Meeting of the AUR at the Omni Orlando Resort at ChampionsGate in Orlando, Florida on Thursday, May 10, 2018.

CME credit will be given for attending the Program. Participants of this course will be required to register for the AUR Annual Meeting and must attend both morning and afternoon sessions of the Program.

Nominations are open to individual AUR members. If you are interested in taking part in this Program, a more complete description of the Program and the nomination form are posted on the AUR website (www.aur.org/AnnualMeeting/Faculty_Development_Program/). Please download the nomination form, complete, and ask your department chair to review and sign the form.

Forty five individuals from the submitted nominations will be invited to attend. The limited number of participants is necessary for the Program to accomplish its objectives.

The deadline for receipt of nominations is Monday, December 11, 2017.

Past Program participants have deemed their experience with this Program a great success. We hope that you will be encouraged to attend other sessions and functions at the AUR meeting so that you may further enhance your experience.

If you have any questions, please feel free to contact me at aur@rsna.org.

Sincerely,

Richard B. Gunderman, MD, PhD
Chair, AUR Academic Faculty Development Program